Kittiwake opens office in India

30th June 2010 13:09 GMT

Kittiwake Developments, a leading provider of asset protection technology, has opened an office in New Delhi, India.

"Our presence in India has provided us with the necessary platform to consolidate our position in this rapidly developing marketplace, enhancing the service that we provide to our customers, worldwide," said Managing Director, Martin Lucas,

In addition to India, Kittiwake has its headquarters in the United Kingdom and offices in Germany, Malaysia and the United States.

Kittiwake specialises in machinery condition monitoring, fuel and lube oil analysis and water testing.

Lucas said Kittiwake hoped to grow organically through access to new markets and geographies and by introducing new technologies.

"We will also be pursuing an aggressive acquisition programme to further expand the business," he added.

The India office will trade as Kittiwake Proactive Technologies Pvt Lt. It will be headed by Deepak Sharma, the long time distributor of Kittiwake in India.

Kittiwake launched an independent Marine Oil Test Service in April, allowing ship operators to undertake on-board analysis of lube or hydraulic oil to check for wear metals and contaminants.
